Thousands in Final Tribute to Mr. Hoover

By JOHN BARBOUR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under the mighty grace of the Capitol dome, the lonely casket rested through the night. And outside, the city he once had left in winter and defeat now gave him high honor amid the glory of autumn leaves.

Herbert Clark Hoover, 31st president of the United States, dead at the age of 90, lay under the cover of his nation's flag in the Capitol rotunda. It was nearly 32 years since he had left the presidency of the depression-stricken nation after one term in office.

Filing in from both sides, from the Senate side and the House side, came the citizens who knew and remembered, and the citizens too young to know. They came, as one of them said, to pay honor "not only to him personally, but to the office."

Not more than four blocks away, at Washington's Union Station, the special train had arrived at about 1:35 p.m., and the sad ritual, practiced to precision, began.

President Johnson and his wife, the Hoover family, the many friends including former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, moved slowly through the cordon of the escort — the Marines with red-striped trousers, the gold stripe of Army, the blue-white of Air Force, the white sea caps of Navy, the black of Coast Guard.

Paces before the official party, the young military men snapped to salute. And then came the long interval while the flag-draped casket was handed down from the train and the salute again as it passed.

Then, outside the station: The horse-drawn caisson to carry the casket, the riderless black horse with the boots reversed in the stirrups, the gray sound of the dirge, and the slow-forming procession of black limousines, stretching nearly the four blocks to the Capitol.

And then: The sheen of the bayonets of the ranks of armed men along the way, the deafening roar of the saluting cannon that shake leaves from trees with their call, the black wreaths of exhaust left in the sky by 50 military jets, the melting away of the crowd, and the final arrival.

In the rotunda, the important and varied people of government had gathered. There were senators: Thurston Morton of Kentucky, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, John J. Williams of Delaware, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. There were Secretaries of State Dean Rusk and former secretary of state Christian Herter. There were also stenographers and clerks.

Not present were former presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman. Eisenhower, 74, was recovering from a moderately severe inflammation of the respiratory tract at Washington's Walter Reed Hospital, and Truman, 80, was just out of a hospital recovering from injuries in a fall.

Contests Election of P. B. Negro

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Rob W. Bryant filed suit here Tuesday contesting the election of Arthur Miller, a Negro, to the Dollarway School Board last Sept. 29.

Bryant, the incumbent, lost to Miller by 60 votes.

The suit challenges 108 votes cast in the box at Townsend Park School, a Negro school. Bryant said that Miller received only seven votes outside the Townsend box.

The suit says one voter cast three ballots, four others cast two ballots each, 25 persons who voted in the box were not legal residents of the district and 78 others lacked 1963 poll tax receipts.

Miller has 20 days to reply to the suit. A hearing will be set after he replies. He said Tuesday night that he had not been notified of the suit.

Two More Join Up With Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former state Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams and Sen. Joe Lee Anderson of Helena have joined the Little Rock campaign headquarters of Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The announcement in the last issue of Faubus' campaign bulletin did not say what the two men would do for the governor.

Campaign Pushed Into Background

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential campaign has been foggy, limping, undistinguished and tiresome. Then suddenly last week it got pushed into the background by a series of events unequalled since 1956.

At that time — in the race between President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson — the voters were completely distracted by the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt and the suppression of the Hungarian revolt by the Soviet Union.

But this is a new week, the campaign is still dawdling, and it is doubtful it will get off the ground again before the election two weeks from today.

With one exception — Red China's atomic explosion — last week's other occurrences also trailed wisps of fog. The exception in the Chinese case was its clear and final meaning: they are now a nuclear nation.

But even this had a gummy quality to it since it is hard to visualize something called nuclear power and the Chinese won't have nuclear bombs for years.

These were the other events: none of them yet clear-cut. Walter W. Jenkins' two arrests became known; Soviet Premier Khrushchev was sacked; and the British voters threw out the Conservatives and put in the Laborites.

Jenkins, President Johnson's top White House aide and a trusted helper for a quarter of a century, was arrested Oct. 7 on a morals charge similar to one on which he had been booked in 1959. Once the arrests were reported, after anonymous tipsters phoned newspapers, the fog set in.

Johnson has asked the FBI to make an investigation. Monday Sen. Barry Goldwater asked FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover why no security check was made on Jenkins after he moved into the White House.

Jenkins is a colonel in the Air Force Reserve squadron commanded by Goldwater who is a major general in the Reserve.

All this might make Jenkins' arrest a big issue in the campaign, although its effect on voters still isn't known and Goldwater apparently isn't going to let the matter drop.

If nothing else had happened the Jenkins' case might have been top news as it unfolded from the time it broke last week. But it got shoved aside to some extent the morning after it broke by the news from Moscow.

There Khrushchev had been fired from his job as Premier and no satisfactory explanation has been given on that, either. Nevertheless, the firing of this roly-poly, extroverted, bubbly Communist was kept alive by his own people.

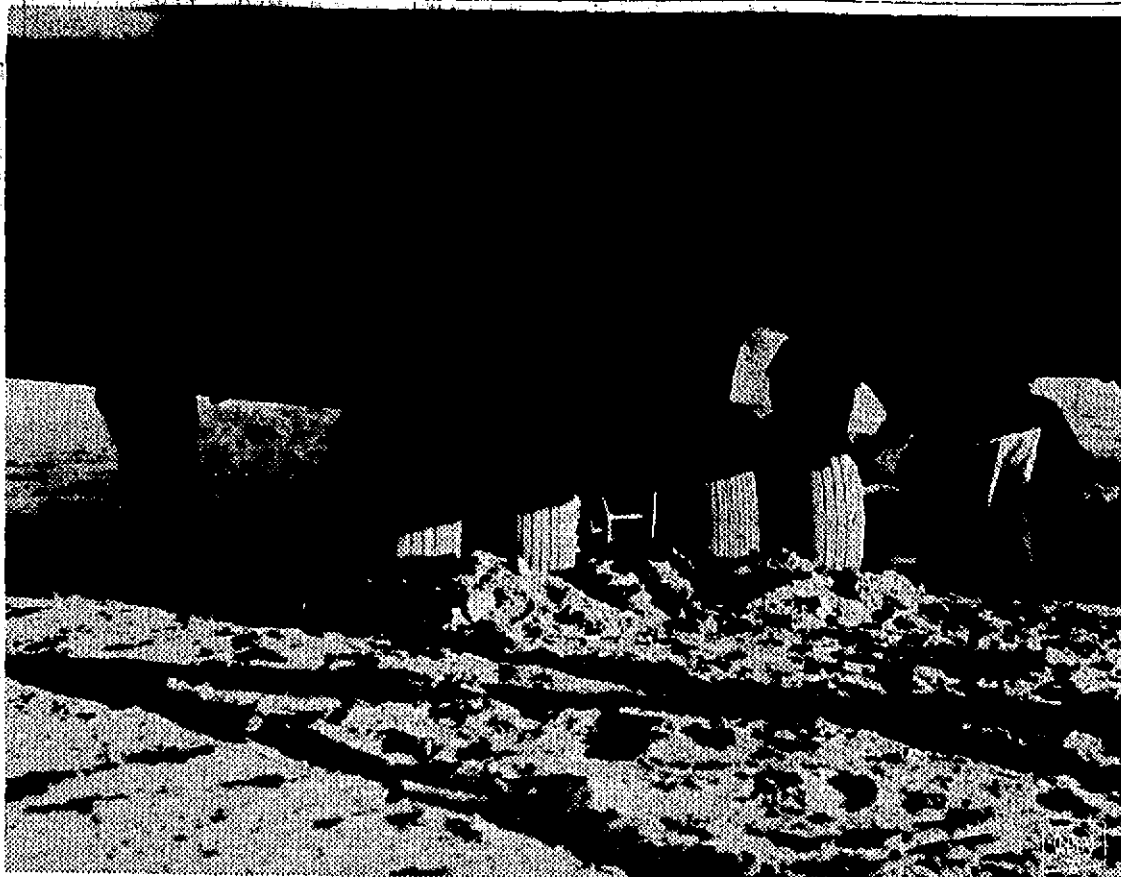

The new Soviet leadership indicate he was too frisky and risky — harebrained, was their way of putting it — but while he was criticized by his successors they've been busy assuring everyone his policies will be continued.

That only compounds the confusion and, just because of this, everytime the Russians talk about it they get front-page attention, thus competing for space with the Jenkins story and the presidential campaign.

While the world and American voters were contemplating Jenkins and Khrushchev, the Red Chinese let go with their atomic blast and the British voters picked the Laborites to run the government.

But the Laborites got such a thin margin of seats over the Conservatives in the House of Commons it was anything but a real mandate and may force another election soon.

All these events together, as foggy as they were, distracted voters from the campaign which may never really recover in the few days left.

Local Lady Discovers What Mark Twain Meant in Loving the River Sternwheelers

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Star Feature Writer

Some years ago Mark Twain fell in love with the Mississippi River, and a few weeks ago, Mrs. Emma Hatley, who lives on Highway 67 East, became equally enamored with the Ohio River. Both lost their hearts on a river boat with a stern paddlewheel.

Formerly used for industrial transportation, some of these old paddlewheelers have been modernized and turned into pleasure boats for vacationers. Such was the case of the "Delta Queen."

Those interested in riverboats may recall that in the 1940's after World War II the "Delta Queen" made headlines when its owner launched it on an unusual voyage for such a vessel.

After much difficulty, the river packet went from San Francisco Bay down the Pacific Ocean, through the Panama Canal, the Caribbean Sea and the Gulf of Mexico, into the Mississippi; she was "uncrated" at New Orleans and made a swift flight up the Mississippi and the Ohio to her home port at Cincinnati.

When she arrived, her forward Jackstaff carried not only the American flag, but those of Mexico, Guatemala, Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, and Panama, the countries which she had just passed.

The idea of broadjumping a million dollar 1,837-ton luxury liner from the Pacific Coast to the Midwest was certainly cause for national publicity. Today, the echoes which once sounded in the tules of the San Joaquin Valley are heard across the levees of Arkansas, the cornfields of Illinois, the hills of Kentucky, and into the bends below Cincinnati, for the "Delta Queen" makes annual trips north to St. Paul and south to New Orleans from the port at Cincinnati.

Mrs. Hatley and Mrs. Beverly Morgan of Stephens were the only Arkansas passengers on board for the recent trip north, and they were state-roommates.

The ship had a crew of 80, and about 175 were on the passenger list from 23 states. The little floating city was complete in every detail from religious services on Sunday to the issuing of a daily newspaper.

The entertainment on the trip was in the capable hands of a young Social Director, and the resulting events sounded like a happy episode from a Gale Storm TV show of a few years ago. For those simply seeking peace and quiet, there was plenty of that available, too. In fact, Mrs. Hatley said she enjoyed the beautiful scenery and quiet reflections in the clear Ohio River as much as any part of her trip.

Faubus Idea a Law for 44 Years

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller forces said today it is amazing that Gov. Orval E. Faubus should, "come up with an idea for preventing double voting that actually has been a requirement of our law for the last 44 years."

Faubus said Wednesday that election officials have been discussing the stamping of poll tax receipts on Nov. 3 to keep people from voting more than once.

Faubus said he favored stamping poll taxes, but did not know whether the plan would be adopted.

Tom Eisele, campaign manager for Rockefeller, said in a radio broadcast today that the law requires that "the poll tax receipt be marked by dated stamp or written endorsement by the judges of election to whom it may be first presented, so as to prevent the holder from voting more than once in any election."

Accused Slayer Is Without Psychosis

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jackie Lee Wood, 22, of Springdale, charged with first-degree murder, is without psychosis, the State Hospital reported Thursday.

Wood is charged in the strangulation slaying of Pamela Ann King, 17, of Mabelvale. The girl's body was found in a motel room in downtown Little Rock last Sept. 15.

Wood has pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity.

Girl Points Out Boy Who Attacked Her

DUNCA, Okla. (AP) — Four times Wednesday Tama Hallmark, still partially paralyzed, had to strain to lift her arm as she pointed to a 16-year-old schoolmate in a police lineup as the boy she said stabbed her almost 50 times last January.

Miss Hallmark, attractive 18-year-old daughter of an oil company executive in this southern Oklahoma town, was attacked after she left Duncan High School Jan. 6. Now she talks brokenly but is coherent. She can walk, with assistance, but still wears a brace on one leg.

When officers gave Lana a lie detector test last January, they said the results indicated he probably was not involved in the attack.

Lana stuck with his story of innocence Wednesday. He was released on $3,000 bond to his father, Bert, a football coach at Duncan Junior High School. The mother is an elementary school teacher and both she and her husband have master's degrees.

Thant Asks Statement From Nikita

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Secretary-General U. Thant suggested today that dismissed Soviet Premier Khrushchev be permitted to make a public statement on the situation leading to his replacement.

Thant expressed confidence that Soviet foreign policy would not change under the leadership of Leonid I. Brezhnev, first secretary of the Communist party, and Alexei N. Kosygin, the new premier.

Thant said he had been assured by Soviet U.N. Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko that the new regime would follow basically the same line on world problems.

The secretary-general said he knew both leaders personally, and felt confident they would not plunge the world back into the cold war.

Thant told a news conference: "It is unlikely that they will reverse the course of history by taking the world back to pre-1953."

Then speaking of Khrushchev's dismissal he said: "It would be helpful and even desirable if Mr. Khrushchev were able or inclined to make a public statement on the situation leading to his exit."

Inmates Rebel In Maryland Friday Night

By GORDON BEARD

JESSUP, Md. (AP) — Defiant inmates at the Maryland House of Correction rioted Friday night but ended their rampage when 100 state police herded them back into their cells.

The prisoners jammed locks, burned clothes, mattresses; and blankets, drenched ceilings below by ripping out plumbing, and threw furniture and debris from their four-tiered cell houses.

Vernon C. Peppersack, state commissioner of correction, estimated the damage at $50,000 but said it might be greater.

Four inmates suffered minor head injuries from objects dropped or thrown from tiers above. They were treated at the prison infirmary.

Lt. Col. George Davidson, chief of operations of the Maryland State Police, led the troopers into the two cell houses and a dormitory where about half the 1,783 inmates ran loose. Peppersack estimated that only 200 inmates had been involved in the most serious part of the rioting.

A dozen guards who had barricaded themselves in cells when the rioting started were rescued by the troopers, who wore steel helmets, carried long riot sticks and shotguns.

The rioting started when an inmate became disorderly during the first feeding at dinner. He punched a guard and was removed.

"There was a rumble at the time," Peppersack said, "but we got the men quieted down, and they returned to their cells."

The rioting resumed after the second feeding, however, and continued for almost three hours.

The troopers took police dogs with them into the cell houses.

"The dogs, clubs and gas were never used," said Davidson. "It was a show of force, and we made an impression on the prisoners. We had it if we needed it. Our first objective was to find the hostages."

Says Faubus Creating Straw Issues

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus was accused today by Winthrop Rockefeller forces of creating "straw issues" to confuse the gubernatorial campaign.

Tom Eisele, Rockefeller campaign manager, said Faubus, "conducts his campaign upon the premise that the people of this state are ignorant fools unable to see through his campaign technique."

The technique, said Eisele in a radio broadcast over 43 Arkansas stations, "involves both clever deception and outright lies."

"You have heard of straw men," said Eisele. "Well, this technique involves the use of a 'straw' issue. You simply charge your opponent with having said something that he did not say, then you lambast him for saying it."

Eisele charged Faubus with telling his audiences that Rockefeller has said there has been no progress under the present administration and that his candidate attempts to take personal credit for all accomplishments of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

"Now, of course, if Win Rockefeller had said any of these things, he should be attacked," Eisele said. "But the truth of the matter is that Win made no such statements; the incumbent has simply lied."

He said Rockefeller has taken the position that some progress has been made, and that he has given credit for AIDC accomplishments to the "civic minded people in the areas where new industries have been chosen to locate."

Eisele also used the broadcast to deny Faubus statements that Rockefeller placed part of his land in the soil bank, and that he told a woman when he put out one dollar, "I expect to get back two."

"It is our desire to stay with the real issues of the campaign," he said.

Whitten Heads Group at Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Vernon H. Whitten, candidate for governor in 1962, has founded a group called Independent Citizens for Rockefeller.

"I'm not a Republican," said Whitten, 53, of Mount Holly.

He said the Democratic Party in Arkansas is a (Gov. Orval E.) "Faubus Party" and the national Democratic ticket of President Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey is too liberal.

Whitten finished fourth in the 1962 Democratic Primary with 22,377 votes.

Need Records for Census on Agriculture

All farmers (and ranchers) in the county will need this year's business records to help answer questions on a form scheduled for mailing in early November to start the nationwide Census of Agriculture.

County Agent Calvin Caldwell said today.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years by the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, in years ending in "4" and "9." It provides information of vital importance about the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is needed in making decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, number of persons living on farms, acreage and harvest of crops, a livestock and poultry inventory, and information of farm equipment and facilities, and on income and some production expenditures.

The job of taking the farm census will be in three stages, the county agent said. The first stage—organizing a team of local citizens in each county to take the census—is already underway. Crew leaders to supervise the census in each county are being selected and trained.

They will have the responsibility of recruiting and training enough enumerators to count the farms (and ranches) in their counties. Each enumerator will visit about 150 farms during three weeks of temporary employment.

Shortly after November 1, the Census Bureau will open stage two by mailing out census questionnaires to all rural boxholders in the county, the county agent continued. Farm operators will have a period of time to consult their records (or best estimates for the year) and answer the questions on the forms.

In the final stage, enumerators will visit each farm in the county to collect the questionnaires, the county agent added.

At the time of this visit, the enumerators will help farmers complete answers to any questions the farmers may not have been able to answer. Enumerator visits, which will take about three weeks to complete, will start in Arkansas on November 23, 1964.

The President's plans for the balance of the week have not been revealed. However, he is expected to set out, probably sometime Tuesday, on a coast-to-coast trip.

With the President today was Gov. John B. Connally Jr. of Texas. Connally was said to be anxious to schedule some campaign stops in Texas — the only large state Johnson has yet to stump.

Goldwater, if he sticks to his schedule, will have made six campaign trips to Johnson's native state by Election Day.

The President had planned to go to the major cities of Texas last Sunday and Monday but canceled the appearances after the announcements from Moscow and Peking.

No Known Fraud, Reply to Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pulaski County Collector Tom Gulley said Thursday that his office is not knowingly involved in any fraud.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus charged Wednesday that the Republicans plan massive vote frauds in the state's most populous county.

Gulley said it was possible that some poll taxes might have been paid by persons under legal voting age.

"I don't know what he's basing that on," Gulley said, "but I'd like to say my office knows nothing of any fraud."

Anti-Registration Group for Win

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Committee for Voter Registration challenged Thursday claims by opponents that Amendment 54—the voter registration proposal—would cost the state $700,000 in school funds.

The Citizens Against Amendment 54 claimed in newspaper advertisements that it would.

Johnson Will Start Campaign Stretch Drive

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, poised for the stretch drive of the campaign, is expected to spend almost all his time away from the White House until the Nov. election.

Johnson, who was away from Washington looking for votes only one of the last seven days, makes two separate campaign trips today and will embark on a third Sunday.

The President flies to Memphis, Tenn., this morning for an outdoor rally near the banks of the Mississippi River. Next stop is Chattanooga, Tenn., for an airport rally en route back to Washington.

Then, after a 2½ hour stop-over at the White House, Johnson is scheduled to fly to Baltimore by helicopter for an evening motorcade and a speech at a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Johnson will spend the night at the White House and take off Sunday for a two-day tour of Florida, Georgia and South Carolina.

The President had planned to spend most of this week on the road. But he revised his schedule after the Soviet Union changed governments and Communist China staged its first nuclear test. Then he canceled some other tentative campaign plans to participate in memorial observances for former President Herbert Hoover.

In his one previous campaign appearance in Tennessee — in Nashville earlier this month — large and enthusiastic crowds greeted him and cheered when he assailed Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater for having suggested the sale of the steam generating plants and fertilizer factories of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Johnson also made an earlier appearance in Baltimore.

The President will fly Sunday to the Florida cities of Fort Lauderdale, Boca Raton, Miami and Orlando. He'll spend the night in Orlando, center of a burgeoning space industry.

Monday, the President will make additional appearances in Florida — at places yet to be announced — and then stop in Georgia and South Carolina before returning to the White House for the night.

The President's plans for the balance of the week have not been revealed. However, he is expected to set out, probably sometime Tuesday, on a coast-to-coast trip.

With the President today was Gov. John B. Connally Jr. of Texas. Connally was said to be anxious to schedule some campaign stops in Texas — the only large state Johnson has yet to stump.

The American Voter Is Skittery Guy

By RELMAN MORIN
A.P. Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Public opinion pollsters have had a rough time in this presidential election year, trying to divine the intentions of that skittery critter, the American voter.

Nor is this the first time he has confounded them, notably in 1936, in 1948 and to a lesser degree in 1952.

So some questions arise. Is President Johnson in fact as far ahead of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater as the polls indicate at this stage?

Generally the figures give Johnson around 60 per cent of the vote. Some polls run higher than that, and some show a slightly lower figure. On Oct. 18 George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, gave Johnson 64 per cent and described this as an "unprecedented lead."

Are some factors, deep seated and difficult to measure, operating for Goldwater?

On Oct. 12 pollster Louis Harris said the GOP candidate "has cut President Johnson's lead." Harris put it at 58 per cent to 34 for Goldwater with eight per cent undecided.

On Oct. 14 a newspaper trade magazine, The American Press, said its poll of weekly and small daily newspaper publishers showed that the publishers believe Goldwater will win majority support from voters in their circulation areas. The magazine said the poll — taken mostly in rural areas — gave Goldwater 59.9 per cent to Johnson's 40.1 per cent. Wallace J. Olds, managing editor of the magazine, said 10,000 cards had been sent to subscribing publishers and replies received from all states except Utah, Alaska and Hawaii.

How many voters are still undecided, refuse to state a preference, or may switch between now and election day?

On Oct. 22 Goldwater's campaign director, Denison Kitchel, said Republicans are receiving "very encouraging reports."

Gallup in an interview with U.S. News & World Report, said in the magazine's Oct. 5 issue he believed "about 80 percent" of the voters have made up their minds.

Pollsters generally emphasize that their findings are "as of today" and that "positions" may change by election day.

There is the record for this year — and the stunning results of some other years.

The pollsters did not hit the nail on the head in the GOP presidential primaries in New Hampshire, Oregon and California.

They did not detect the tide of write-in votes that gave the New Hampshire election to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. In Oregon, polls showed Lodge leading, whereas New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller won. In California Rockefeller led in the polls, but Goldwater won in the ballot box.

In both Oregon and California, pollsters did get close to the beam in the 11th-hour reporting.

They spoke of shifts toward Rockefeller in Oregon and toward Goldwater in California.

The recent national elections in Britain also confounded the pollsters. The Labor party won by 0.7 per cent.

On election day, Oct. 15, three major polls published their final surveys.

The National Opinion Poll picked Labor by 3 per cent. The Gallup poll saw Labor winning by 3.5 per cent. And the news-

Ill, an insurance broker, was asked for a comment, but he said only: "I don't like to spread it on too thick."

One pickle man suggested naming the newsman's first offspring "brine."

"Masculine name," he said.

The newsman noticed that a huge table of before-dinner appetizers was lacking one thing.

Pickles.

Sam Fergus held a sincere affection for Velma Sandor, but he had never let it blind him to her pampered selfishness. Had she been thinking of her own helplessness, now that she had come closer and closer to such poverty as she had never known?

Very close, now yes; it was true in two ways. First, she had raised the major part of the ransom by selling a sizable bundle of securities. Second—Fergus was one of the few who knew this—she had helped her husband to finance Sandor Productions by investing a good part of the inheritance she had acquired on the death of her wealthy parents, and without Sandor the business, already weakened as it was, could easily go bankrupt.

She was unexpectedly facing a terrifying calamity, a greater calamity than she could endure.

Fergus shuddered, trying not to think that Velma could turn so avaricious as this, that she would let her husband hang to save her own neck. At last, having suddenly confronted herself, she had fled from the dreadfulness of it.

Fergus looked at the clock, saw it was later than he'd thought, and pushed himself to his feet. He took up a slip of paper from his desk. He had noted a number on it, that of the home phone number of Walter J. Ramsey, in Westport, Conn. Ramsey was a member of the board of directors of Magna Productions and the disgruntled holder of a heavy block of Magna stock—the man with whom Fergus had been exchanging a series of highly confidential letters.

He left the trailer and haltingly followed a path until he came to the outdoor phone booth.

He felt a quickened sense of vitality as he went through the process of placing his call.

"It is Sam, Walter."

"Sam—Do you realize what time—"

"Of course I do, Walter. It's time for us to begin playing our aces."

Ramsey experienced a befuddled moment. "I don't get it. You wrote me saying you were buying in the open market, only a few shares at a time."

"So I did, Walter. That's perfectly true. This is something else, far bigger, so brace yourself. I've just come into possession of a single large parcel of stock, 7500 shares."

"What! How could you pull off a deal like that!"

"personal, private transaction, Walter: very private, indeed. I'll hold the shares in the previous owner's name until just before the next stockholders' meeting, then—"

"That helps, Sam! Add to the proxies we already have lined up, that really helps!"

Fergus listened, nodding and beaming at himself, while Ramsey rattled on, stumbling over his own words in his elation.

As soon as he stepped out of the shower stall and began toweling himself Allen Landall knew he wasn't alone. Sounds were coming from the front of the apartment and in through the partly open door of the bathroom.

"Good morning, darling!" Lyn said, too brightly.

He humbled his response and

Justice Dept. Moves to Change Rule

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Justice Department moves today to appeal a federal judge's effort to jail the U.S. district attorney and the U.S. attorney general.

It is a strange judicial clash, still mainly obscured by grand jury secrecy.

In a dramatic court session Thursday, Dist. Atty. Robert Hauberg refused to sign several indictments prepared by a "blue ribbon" federal grand jury.

His signature is necessary to make indictments legal.

Reacting sharply, Dist. Judge Harold Cox ruled Hauberg guilty of contempt of court. He also ordered civil contempt of court proceedings against acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach.

Instead of jailing Hauberg immediately, Judge Cox allowed five days for an appeal to be filed.

The grand jury is the one summoned to session at Biloxi to consider evidence in the murder of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss. No indictments involving that case were returned.

When the federal grand jury reconvened in Jackson, several indictments were proposed by the grand jury. What these indictments involve was not made public. Informed sources said the cases, dealt with charges against civil rights workers.

In open court, Hauberg told the judge that Katzenbach had instructed him: "Neither you nor any of your assistants are authorized to prepare or sign indictments in matters being heard. I direct you to refrain."

In convicting Hauberg of civil contempt, Judge Cox said that — unless a higher court intervenes — the district attorney will be jailed "until he purges himself by performing his official duty for the grand jury as requested in the several pending cases before them."

gave her her kiss.

"I'd begun to think you'd sleep all day, Allen. I couldn't bear to wake you, even though you'll be awfully late at the office."

"What office? I have a desk alongside a couple of stenographers, remember?"

"There's something I've been wanting to ask you about, Allen. You remember the night when Hugo was kidnapped?"

"Of course he remembered it. And I was here with you?"

"When wasn't she?"

"And Dick phoned to tell you what had happened, then you went right over to the Sandor place?"

"So?"

"As soon as you stepped out the door, and had it closed behind you, you laughed."

"Did I?"

"You sounded so... well... delighted. And I've wondered why."

"Sure. When you hear of a kidnapping, you think of a child. At least I do. That's half the derivation of the word, you see. Kid—child. The rest of it comes from a dialect variation of nab, to steal. Well, picturing that big hulking guy getting whisked off like a toddler in diapers, the whole thing seemed ridiculous."

"Ridiculous? Allen, it was dangerous!"

"Besides, I found a rare dash of irony in it. That was one time when Hugo wouldn't be throwing his weight around."

He laughed again, this time on an empty note, indicating to Lyn the complications following that news had been decidedly unfunny.

"DEAR ABBY"

DOUBLE-BARRELED ADVICE

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: Please advise me on a problem that has been continuing for 39 years. During our courtship, my husband was so amorous and passionate that I thought I was getting quite a prize. Our honeymoon ended abruptly when I caught him in the arms of a chambermaid. After that it was a "friend," then a neighbor. Then, just anybody. He told me that I was naive—that all men were polygamous, and I should accept it. He would escort me to parties, disappear, and return in time to take me home. No explanation! Our club had a kissing marathon to see who could hold a kiss the longest. He entered with a woman he had never seen before that evening. (She was somebody's out-of-town guest and stiffer than a plate glass window!) All the other contestants were married to each other. Not able to bear the humiliation, I left before the contest was over, but later learned that my husband had won it. He calls all these capers "harmless fun." Now, in his declining years, he is all fired up about ME! And I am so hungry for love that I can't say no. Am I sick?

Dear Abby: I went to a lot of expense (for us) to install seat belts in our automobile, but some people who ride with us don't bother to use them even when we ask them to! We use them even if we are going only two blocks. (We were told by an insurance man that most car accidents occur within a few blocks of the driver's destination.) What should we do about people who absolutely refuse to use the seat belts in our car, saying it is too much trouble?

Dear Abby: My grandson flunked out of two colleges. His mother (my daughter) blames it on his elementary education. She says, "The teachers don't know how to teach any more." But, Abby, neither my daughter nor her husband ever have any good books around the house. They never go to a concert or to a good play. They spend all their time cleaning, painting their houses, and fixing up the yard. They are both college graduates and should know better. Their children sit in front of the television set and eat snacks. There is no food for thought in their home. I have tried to tell my daughter, but I can't get through to her. Maybe she can be helped by your advice, if she can stop cleaning long enough to read the newspaper.

Dear Abby: I agree, the chances for intellectual growth are far better in a cultural environment. But so many children blossom intellectually with no help at home, it's difficult to generalize. These children seem plain lazy, and their parents are culturally dull. A sad combination.

Confidential To K.M.: Go back to church. To say, "I'm not good enough for God," is saying, "I am too sick to go to a hospital." A church is a hospital for sinners—not a museum for saints.

Bobcats Chew Panthers For Conference Victory

Hope Takes 7th Straight With 28 to 13 Win

By CARTER HARDAGE HOPE STAR SPORTSWRITER

Roaring to an early lead, the Bobcats squelched Magnolia 28-13 last night at Magnolia to keep a firm grip on their top rung of the 4AA ladder.

Paced on offense by Jordan's passing, Hope subdued the somewhat eager Panthers with two first period touchdowns and a rugged brand of defense.

Warren and Camden, both still strong contenders in regional play, managed to come home with wins and keep themselves within striking distance of the top. Hope now stands 3-0 in the conference; Malvern is 3-1, Warren 4-1.

The Bobcats wasted no time in getting things on the move last night. On first possession of the ball, they racked up seventy-four quick yards on seven carries for their first tally.

A forty-nine yard play from Buddy Jordan to Jerry Burnett set up the first score. Wide open up the middle, Burnett romped to the six, where he was finally run out of bounds. Two plays later, Jordan crossed from the 3 on a keeper. Burnett kicked the extra point, and the Cats skipped to a quick 7-0 lead with less than six minutes of the first period gone.

The Panthers were unable to move the ball on their next try, and gave up the ball to Hope for another scoring drive. Set up by two long aeriels from Jordan to Burnett, the score came on a five yard slice across tackle by Burnett. He again added the point after, and the score now stood 14-0 for the Cats.

In the closing seconds of the period, the Magnolia offense crossed the line of scrimmage for the first time, and they did it in a big way. Fullback Doyle Nipper sprinted eighteen yards before being felled, injured, at the Magnolia 48. He came back in the closing moments of the half. The quarter passed, with Hope out front 14-0.

An interception by Massanelli set up the next TD for the Cats. After a good runback to the Magnolia 37, Jordan kept for fifteen and then went to the air. Jordan passed to end Stan Parris, who lateraled straight to Burnett, who completed the twenty-two yard play that went all the way to the four. On the next play, Jordan found Parris in the end zone for the score. Burnett kicked the PAT, and the Hope went to the dressing room with 21-0 lead.

It didn't take the Cats long after the half to rack up their other tally. Jordan completed a twenty-six yarder to Parris for the required amount. Burnett added the extra point, and the score stood 28-0.

The Panthers decided that it was about time for them to break into the scoring column.

The second Panther score came late in the quarter when Wiley connected a thirty-three yard pass to Curtis. Ellison kicked the point from 1 1/2 yards out, and Magnolia came up to 28-13, where they stayed until the end of the match.

Johnny Samuels led the individual rushing with 9-33. Burnett was 6-28, Waller 5-26, Jordan 7-25, Easterling 6-19, Thompson 7-14, Ingram 2-6, Strong 2-3, and Bobby Samuels 1-1.

Picking State College Grid Winners Sat.

By BILL SIMMONS Associated Press Writer

Arkansas, No. 4 in the nation, should be as down as Death Valley for the Wichita Wheatshockers in Little Rock this Saturday.

On the other hand, the Kansas grain pluckers will be sky high. This narrows things down to what difference will it make on the scoreboard?

The Razorbacks represent the cream of the Wichita schedule this season and should prevail handsily (especially if they want to say high up in the Associated Press poll.)

So let's pick 'em: Arkansas 28, Wichita 0. Frank Broyles may want his Hogs scared. It's a cinch Wichita will be. But the game involves more than fear.

Arkansas State 20, Abilene Christian 14. The Indians look better than they have in a long, long time.

Now, the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference: Henderson 14, Arkansas A&M 7. That Reddie defense.

State Teachers 20, Southern State 13. The Bears have got to keep close.

Star Comics Larger and Easier to Read Today

Hope Star publishes 18 cartoons and the crossword puzzle daily — 12 features on this page — and the other six on separate pages.

Our reproduction is the largest offered by the national newspaper feature syndicates. The remaining four - column strips will be increased to five columns as soon as the syndicates make the larger size available.

STRENGTHEN YOUR FAITH

Through Regular Church Worship

This Page Is Published With The Hope It Will Focus The Attention Of Our People On The Churches Of This Area

Your hatred hurts you.

For every action there is a reaction. If we love we are loved. If we give we are given. When we learn this and believe it we have learned God's plan for us.

No man can live alone. He needs his neighbor. God told us this many times, "Love thy neighbor as thyself." God also told us who our neighbor was . . . everyone, even our enemy.

It is hard for us to accept this unless we realize that our hatred hurts us. Hatred drives out love. That is why God told us to love one another. The more we love the closer we come to God who is perfect love. Truly we are our brother's keeper.

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat Communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . .
